Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The term "comprises" is open-ended in the context "wherein said acid comprises methanesulphonic acid." It is unclear what else is included.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable independently over Huber (US 2,721,199); Michel et al. (US 4,211,700) and Rademacher et al. (US 4,689,412). These references independently teach the rearrangement of oximes to the corresponding amides using as catalyst sulfuric acid and wherein sulfuric acid is not used as catalyst. Thus, US 2,721,199 teaches the use of trifluoroacetic acid and US 4,689,412 teaches the use of sulfonic acid anhydrides, anhydrides of sulfuric acid half esters or mixtures thereof (see col. 2, lines 11-14). The claims differ by requiring methanesulphonic acid as catalyst. However, it is well known by the skilled artisan that any acid facilitates Beckmann rearrangement of oximes to their corresponding acid. Therefore, one skilled in the art would be motivated to select any acid, including, methanesulphonic acid, with the expectation of achieving similar results because methanesulphonic acid is also known as "the sulfuric acid for organic chemists."

Applicants' comparative showing on pages 6-8 of the specification does not show superior or unexpected results achieved when methanesulphonic acid is used as catalyst.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-15 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-20 of copending Application No. 09/400,996. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claimed subject matter overlaps.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
